Continuation of August Sale Bed Blankets.

(Manufacturers' Seconds.)

THIS August Sale is an annual event with us—comes regularly with the season—and is welcomed by housekeepers, newly married people, proprietors of hotels and boarding houses, and parents who have boys or girls going away to school.

It is a sale of fine, fluffy Wool Blankets, practically perfect, at an average saving of a quarter to a third on regular prices.

These Blankets are known to the trade as "seconds," that is, they are not absolutely perfect and up to the high standard set by the manufacturer. This lot comes from one of the leading manufacturers in the East, and the imperfections are very slight and less noticeable than ever.

We offer them at a quarter to a third less than they would cost you if they were strictly perfect.

RETAIL CLERKS HELD OUTING

Eleventh Annual Excursion Given at Marshall Hall.

Record-breaking Crowd Attended, and All Enjoyed a Day's Recreation.

The eleventh annual excursion of the Retail Clerks' Association, No. 352, was held yesterday at Marshall Hall. A record-breaking crowd attended, and the carrying capacity of the steamer Charles Maclester was taxed to the utmost.

From the time that the first boat left the Seventh street wharf at 10 o'clock until the last tired "clerk" went on shore after the return trip in the evening, everybody generally and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. It was a gala day at the river resort for the members of the association, and the various amusements ran full blast.

No special athletic programme was arranged, but all manner of games were played, and as one enthusiastic excursionist said: "It was lively enough without any Marathon stunts." The most popular diversion was the dancing at the pavilion, and of this enticing pastime no one seemed to tire.

The band, which was led by Prof.

Shroeder, played all day especially for the clerks, and the musical programme was of unusual merit. Both dinner and supper was served on tables under the shade trees.

Frank Manning, president of the Retail Clerks' Association, who has just returned from the national convention in Louisville, Ky., was the chairman of the committee in charge, which consisted of C. D. Seals, vice chairman; L. J. Pollock, secretary; I. Boyle, H. O. Bullock, J. S. Bollock, A. E. Maddox, Arthur Caulfield, J. A. Riley, and J. S. Reed. One of the most active workers in making the excursion a success was Mrs. L. J. Pollock, wife of the committee.

CARTER FUNERAL TO-DAY.

Rev. George F. Dudley will conduct services at Victoria Apartments. The funeral of Charles M. Carter, writer and scientist, will be held from his apartments in the Victoria, Fourteenth and Clifton streets, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The officiating clergyman will be Rev. George F. Dudley, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Mr. Carter was not only prominent as a novelist, but was also deeply interested in scientific research. He was the collaborator of the late Prof. Warring, of New York, who was commissioned by the government to improve sanitary conditions in Cuba, and who sacrificed his life on the island when he contracted yellow fever.

Mr. Carter was for many years a prominent attorney in Washington. He is survived by a wife and one son, Charles T. Carter, of this city.

Miss Helen Taft Spends Much Time Motoring.

DYKES-CUNNINGHAM WEDDING

Representative and Mrs. Anthony are motoring to Beverly before returning to their Kansas home. Mrs. Churchill Candee goes to York Harbor—Other Social Notes.

Miss Helen Taft, who is becoming an enthusiastic motorist, spent Monday at Magnolia, going there and back by motor, and on her return took an auto ride along the North Shore with her mother. On that same day Robert Taft played a losing game in the open tennis tournament at the Essex Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer P. Murphy are rejoicing in the arrival of a son, born Monday. Mrs. Murphy was formerly Miss Patricia Egan, daughter of the United States Minister to Denmark, and Mrs. Maurice Francis Egan. She was married to Mr. Murphy in the legation at Copenhagen about a year ago, and came almost immediately to Washington. Mrs. Egan came over a few weeks ago to spend the last summer and autumn with her son-in-law and daughter, and the Minister will join her here next month. They will return together late in the fall. Mrs. Murphy was her father's secretary during his regime, and professor in the Catholic University, and has inherited much of his literary gifts. He is said to be the greatest writer of sonnets since Shakespeare, and Mrs. Murphy has written some in the same style which are most creditable.

Representative and Mrs. Daniel Reade Anthony, Jr., of Kansas, are on their way to Beverly, Mass., in their touring car. Representative Philip Pitt Campbell, also of Kansas, is in their party. They are equipped for a long and rough journey, and expect to visit Boston and all of the New England towns of importance. They will ship the car from New England, and return to their Kansas homes by rail.

Miss Esther Byrnes, who came up from the Norfolk Navy Yard to act as maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Badger and Paymaster Bryan, of Annapolis, was the guest of Mrs. Badger during the past week in the Sampson house, on New Hampshire avenue, which the Badgers are occupying this summer. Miss Byrnes has returned to Norfolk.

Gen. George H. Barries, commander of the District National Guard, made a recent trip to Fort Monroe, Va., on a recent visit. He took a party of distinguished guests to Yorktown, Va., including Secretary of War Dickinson, Representative Richard Wayne Parker, of New Jersey; Gen. Aleshiro, U. S. A.; Col. and Mrs. Coffin, and Maj. and Mrs. Ridgeway.

Gen. Baron de Charette and Baroness de Charette entertained at a house party last week in honor of Miss Suzanne Henning, of Kentucky, whose engagement to their son, Marquis Antoine de Charette, was recently announced. The wedding of the young people will take place in the autumn, probably in the New York home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Williamson Henning, 113 East Thirtieth street. Miss Henning is the intimate friend of Miss Frederica Morgan, of this city, whose marriage to Mr. Evan Sinclair Cameron, of Baltimore, will also take place the coming fall. Miss Henning has been Miss Morgan's frequent guest in Washington, and her fiancé accompanied her here last winter just previous to his sailing with his mother for their home in France. His mother was a Miss Polk, of Tennessee, a relative of former President Polk. Miss Henning is abroad this summer with her aunt, Miss Henning, and they will be joined in a few weeks by the father of the bride-elect, who will accompany them home.

Mr. Wade Chance, formerly of this city, now of London, arrived in America last week from England for a short stay. Mrs. Wade Chance, who was known in society in New York and Washington as Mrs. Van Rensselaer Granger, has remained in their London home where their success during this season has been notable.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, of New York and Tuxedo, and their three daughters, Harriet, Janetia, and Mary Crocker Alexander, have gone on their steam yacht Sultan on the annual cruise of the New York Yacht Club from Newport to Mount Desert. They will return to their Tuxedo cottage about the middle of next month. Miss Janetia Alexander is the intimate friend of Miss Ethel Roosevelt, and was a member of Miss Roosevelt's house party at the time of her debut in the White House.

Representative Eugene F. Kinkead, of New Jersey, whose engagement to Miss Anna O'Neill, one of the four daughters of the late T. J. O'Neill, of New York, was recently announced, sailed for Europe Saturday, accompanied by his mother and fiancée and some of her relatives. Mrs. T. W. B. Duckwall and Miss Katherine Duckwall have gone to Atlantic City. They will later join Mr. Duckwall at Berkeley Springs, where they will remain until late in the fall.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter S. Harban are spending the late summer, as usual, at Tuxedo, N. J., where Dr. Harban is turning his attention to angling to the detriment of his golf playing. Last week he was one of a party composed of former Senator J. B. Foraker and Mr. E. J. Steilwagen, both of this city, who brought home in one day a record-breaking string of fish, both for numbers and size.

Mrs. Albert Clifford Barney has arrived in Bar Harbor, where she has spent the summer for many years having leased her cottage there to the Jacob Schiffs. Miss Barney sailed for Paris last week, after a short visit home and a trip through the West.

Col. Charles G. Ayres, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Ayres, formerly of Washington, are detained in their New York residence by illness in the family. Miss Emily Dearborn Ayres, one of the most attractive of the army buds in Washington a few years ago, is touring through the New England States with a party of friends.

The marriage is announced of Mr. Conrad Becker to Miss O. M. Deskins, both of this city. The ceremony was performed privately in Rock Creek Chapel on Saturday, July 31, 1909. Mr. Becker is a member of the army and his bride will be at home later on at his residence, 1523 Fourteenth street northwest, where the Becker family has lived for many years.

The wedding of Miss Victoria Marchant Parks, daughter of Capt. Wythe M. Parks, U. S. N., formerly stationed in Washington, and Capt. John Arthur Hughes, U. S. M. C., is set for September, and will take place in the residence of the bride's father in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Capt. Hughes will probably take his bride to Panama, where he expects to be transferred. Mrs. Parks and her daughter are now at the Virginia Hot Springs, where they will spend August.

The marriage of Miss Isabel Dykes to Mr. Albas J. Cunningham, took place yesterday morning in St. Anthony's Church, in Brookland, D. C. The pastor, Rev. Edward M. Southgate, officiated. Miss Agnes Dowling presided at the organ, and Mr. Hobart Randall and Mr. Paul Randall, with violin and cello, respectively, played the wedding marches and other numbers. Mrs. Margaret Clark sang "O Promise Me." The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. A. V. Dykes, was given in marriage by her brother, John W. Dykes. She wore white batiste and lace and a white picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Mr. Frank R. Chase, and the ushers were Messrs. May and Hansen.

Mr. Cunningham and his bride left shortly after the ceremony for their wedding trip North, the bride wearing a gown of blue braided linen, with a black hat trimmed with plumes.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hawkins was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Saturday evening, when their daughter, Miss Susie M. Hawkins, became the bride of Mr. Marshall B. Harbaugh, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the young couple, Rev. William Lee Lynn, of Gorse Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Charles J. Harbaugh was the best man, while the bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Mary A. Massey, of Wilmington, Del. The bride was dressed in a white princess trimmed with old lace, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. Mrs. W. L. Lynn played "Hearst and Flowers" and "O Promise Me" during the performance of the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Harbaugh will make their home with the parents of the bride at 112 Four-and-a-half street southwest.

MANY FAIL TO PASS.

Only thirty-two eligible on list for the Marine Corps.

Only thirty-two out of sixty-one candidates for commissions in the Marine Corps have passed the examinations, which have been conducted by a special examining board at the Marine Barracks, in Washington, since July 12.

Of the twenty-nine who failed, eighteen passed mentally, but were deficient physically. About seven failed mentally, and the remaining four failed on the last, or professional examinations.

The list was completed yesterday, and forwarded to Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop by Lieut. Col. Haines, acting commandant of the Marine Corps. Since the standard of qualification for second lieutenants in the Marine Corps has been raised, it is doubtful if all of the thirty-two men will be approved by Mr. Winthrop.

The number of eligibles will not fill up the big list of vacancies created in the Marine Corps by the new personnel law. Another examination will probably be held next fall.
